

Some 500 Join in Indiana Field Day

■ ON A COOL JULY 14, Hunt Bros., Lafayette, Ind., hosted the Indiana Junior Hereford Association's annual field day on the farm at Battleground, Ind.

An estimated 500 people took part in a full day of activities. Starting with the type demonstration and judging contest in the morning, the program moved along into a free barbecue beef lunch by the host, and progressed into the highlights of the afternoon. B. C. (Bud) Snidow, assistant secretary of the American Hereford Association, talked very aptly on "Your Future with Herefords," while Jack Dunford, Max Meadows, Va., treasurer of the American Junior Hereford Association, added some very interesting comments.

Bill Hensley, president of the Indiana Junior Hereford Association, emceed the afternoon program, and also told of his organization's activities. Jim Eppers, herdsman at Northern Pump Co. Farms, McHenry, Fla., talked on how to feed and fit a winner.

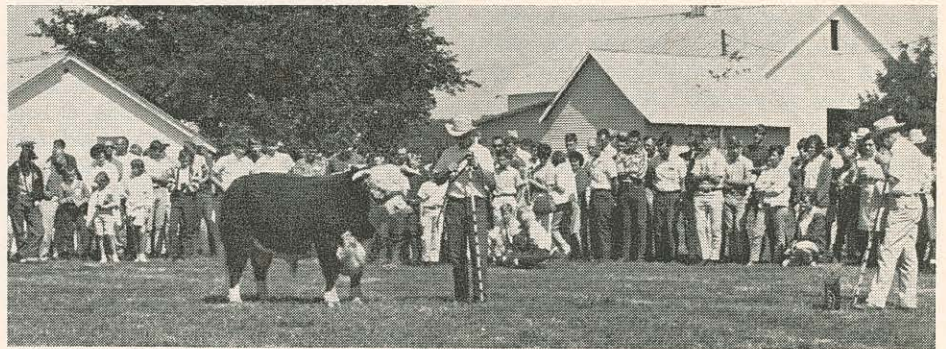

Serving as official judges for the contest were Wayne Haygood, New Harmony, Ind., president of the Indiana Hereford Association and manager of Indian Mound Farm; Dr. J. T. (Jack) Frost, professor of animal husbandry at Purdue University, Lafayette, and W. W. (Buck) Boyd, Dover, Ky.

In the contest, top team honors went to the Pennville FFA Chapter, represented by David Davis, Mike Caylor, Ron Landers and Steve Evans with Bill Kipfer, advisor. The second- and third-place teams were the New Ross FFA Chapter and the Victory Farmers 4-H Club from Salem.

Holly Dodson, Franklin, topped the individual junior winners and second and third places went to John Keffer, Crawfordsville, and Beth Bailey, Lowell, respectively. Miss Bailey also won the registered Hereford female donated by Hunt Bros., as the top Indiana junior.

Mrs. Clyde Culp, Rensselaer, Ind., topped the women's division in the judging contest and Mrs. Don Bailey, Lowell, placed second. First-place in the men's division went to Elmer Gamble, Jr., of Rome, and second place was won by James Day, Salem. □

This large crowd at the Indiana Junior Hereford Association field day witness a type demonstration being given by Dr. Jack Frost, extreme right, with a bull from the herd of the hosts, Hunt Bros. Ted Hunt is at the halter.—American Hereford Association photograph.

HEREFORD JOURNAL / AUGUST 1, 1967

35

Field Day Set By Cattle Uni

The Indiana Junior Hereford Association will stage its annual field day July 14 at Hunt Brothers Hereford Farm, located near Lafayette.

The day's activities will feature a Hereford judging contest, a weight guessing contest, educational demonstrations and informative discussions by leading Hereford breeders.

Numerous prizes are being awarded to 4-H and FFA teams, junior and adult individual judges. Six classes of Hereford cattle from the Hunt herd will be placed in the contest. A special invitation is extended to all 4H and FFA teams to compete in the contest. The grand prize for the high individual who is a member of the association is a registered heifer given by the host farm.